

HARVARD-AMGEN SCHOLARS PROGRAM

PROGRAM OVERVIEW

- 10-week residential summer research program for undergraduates in biotechnology.
- Amgen Scholars are paired with world-renowned faculty mentors and a direct supervisor in the laboratory, following an interview selection process. Scholars conduct hands-on, innovative research across biotechnology fields in cutting-edge facilities at Harvard.
- The Amgen Scholars Program at Harvard believes in a three-dimensional approach that includes a variety of pre-professional development, scholarly development, and social engagement activities.

AWARD BENEFITS

- 1 Stipend in the amount of $4,000
- 2 Housing at one of the historic residential River Houses of Harvard
- 3 Travel costs for non-Harvard students traveling to/from Boston, MA
- 4 Travel, food, and lodging costs to/from Los Angeles, CA for the Amgen Scholars National Symposium at UCLA
- 5 Access to athletic and recreational facilities, Harvard's libraries, and on-campus activities

ELIGIBILITY

The Amgen Scholars Program at Harvard selects undergraduates with high academic success, research interests in the biotechnology fields, and commitment to the pursuit of a career in science.

Applicants must meet all of the following criteria:

- U.S. citizens or U.S. permanent residents
- Undergraduate students enrolled in accredited four-year colleges or universities in the United States, Puerto Rico or other U.S. territories
- Sophomores, juniors or non-graduating seniors
- A cumulative GPA of 3.2 or above (on a 4.0 scale)
- Interest in pursuing a Ph.D. or M.D./Ph.D.

The program especially encourages applications from individuals who come from groups traditionally underrepresented in the STEM fields as well as individuals who come from rural or inner-city areas and individuals whose backgrounds and experiences would bring diversity to the biotechnology fields.

Previous research experience is not a requirement for participation in the program.
