

ATTENTION FIRST – THIRD YEARS:

Research SnackChats are back!

The Office of Undergraduate Research and Fellowships (URAF) is excited to organize our second annual Research SnackChats! SnackChats are opportunities for thesis writers and 1st/2nd/3rd years to pair up to discuss research over a snack, tea, coffee, etc.

URAF will provide each match with a $20 gift card to a local establishment to cover the cost of a snack. Matches organize their own (approximately 1 hour) chat session to take place between April 5 and April 19.

First-years, sophomores, and juniors who would like to participate should review the list of senior thesis projects, make note of their top 3 theses of interest, and complete the 1st/2nd/3rd-Years SnackChats Interest Form by 11:59pm (ET) on Wednesday, April 3. The survey will ask for your theses preferences and contact information.

https://uraf.harvard.edu/sites/projects.iq.harvard.edu/files/uraf/files/2024_research_snackchats_thesis_index.pdf

https://harvard.az1.qualtrics.com/jfe/form/SV_b276irSst4Rk2oe

Next, URAF will match students with similar research interests (to the best of our abilities!). Unfortunately, we can't guarantee every interested student will receive a match.

We hope you'll strongly consider participating in SnackChats this year! If you have any questions, please don't hesitate to reach out to undergradresearch@fas.harvard.edu.